Andrew Fourie (62 y.o.) is died the 30 November 2010. Two weeks ago, the 18 November 2010, he was attacked in his rented house on Boschpoort farm, at Vaalwater, in the north of Transvaal (Azania, the capitalist-communist empire of southern Africa, changed the name of the region in “Northern Transvaal”, then in “Northern Province”, and then in “Limpopo”. An other kind of genocide...).

Andrew Fourie was been dragged around with a belt around his neck in his house. His beloved Jack Russel dog “Snottie”, has been brutally kicked and beaten and then shot dead in front of him.

His murderers had crushed his hands, which were badly afflicted by arthritis, then also had tried to smother him to death with a pillow and had left him behind for dead.
